Plan To Fight Crime
—BY ARTHUR BRISBANE—

BARTON, Cal., Dec. 9—This Santa Fe train slides down the Cajon Pass to the biggest city in the world. Your dining-car neighbor assures you that in 10 years Los Angeles will be the biggest city in the world. He is not discouraged by the fact that New York is gaining 200,000 a year.

THE EXAMINER meets you with a statement that Los Angeles population is now about 1,500,000, not counting big connecting cities. Population gains 100,000 a year, another city added to Los Angeles every 365 days.

THE biggest cities, once on the Mediterranean, moved to the Atlantic. Vasco Da Gama's visit to the Amazon of Calicut had transferred Europe's commerce from the Mediterranean to the Atlantic and ruined Venice.

THE world moves westward and the great cities of the world will be on the Pacific or near its edge in the next century. New York and Chicago must be consigned to that, although flying machines may take the place of water ships—make the real ocean the air and turn cities a seaport.

NEW YORKERS who made up their minds to nominate Mr. Hughes as the man to beat Governor Smith in New York state now learn from Mr. Hughes that he won't run, and President Coolidge again says he does not choose, so the nomination is wide open for three men—Hoover, Dawes, Lowden. But if you had a million dollars for each proud American now working to get the nomination away from these three, and firmly convinced he will get it, you would be the richest man in the world.

LAST August the stock market broke when President Coolidge's first "do not choose" came out, and on Wednesday last that foolish market broke again because the president said he would not. What frightens gentle stockholders and speculators? Do they think Hoover, Lowden or Dawes would do the war on Patagonia; abandon the gold standard; close factories; stop the mail and putting on a new president? No, it is a good president, wisely allowing those that know how to run the country's business to run it. Other politicians are ready to do the same. The president will not choose to sell his stocks because Mr. Coolidge does not choose to run.

AN unfortunate Hindu woman, attempting to perform the rite of sutra, threw herself on a funeral pyre beside the corpse of her husband and was burned so badly before British police could rescue her that she died. Her 1,500 Hindu friends to get charred fragments of the woman's dress. Hundreds of rupees are paid for a small piece, supposed to be sacred.

BRITAIN is sending a commission to India, headed by Sir John Simon, to see about helping India toward self-government. The help should begin 5,000 tons back.

How can you, give self-government to a people in whose literature the word "democracy" does not appear in 5,000 years, to millions who believe that little girls eight and nine years old should be married to middle-aged men, and that when the old husband dies the young widow should be burned alive with the husband's miserable corpse. That's a long way from self-government.

AN intensely interesting suggestion from Gov. Al Smith would take the power of pardoning prisoners, sentencing and putting them on probation from judges and transfer it to a board of expert psychiatrists, criminologists and penologists. Such a board might punish crime instead of merely sending criminals to be made more efficient in the penitentiary crime universities.

KEITH AND ORPHEUM IN BIG VAUDEVILLE MERGER
New York, Dec. 9.—With total assets of a hundred million dollars, 75 per cent of the vaudeville houses in the United States and Canada were grouped under a single controlling corporation today with the official announcement of consummation of a merger between the Keith-Albee and the Orpheum Vaudeville Circuits.

E. F. Albee is president of the new Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation and Marvin Heiman, executive vice-president.

Marion Young Men Form Junior C. of C.

BODY TO TAKE PART IN CIVIC WORK IN CITY

Group Independent, but Plans To Co-Operate with Senior Organization

RHU C. CHENEY HEAD
No Officers or Others Connected with Association To Receive Compensation

A Junior Chamber of Commerce, an organization which is expected to take a prominent part in community activities here in the future, was formed last night at a meeting held by a group of young men in the office of C. H. Conley, attorney and real estate dealer, 116½ S. Main-st.

Although an independent organization, the Junior Chamber, its officers announced today, will work in close co-operation with the Marion Chamber of Commerce in promoting the city's general welfare and advancement. The age limits for membership in the Junior organization were fixed at 18 and 35 years in by-laws adopted at last night's meeting.

List of Officers
Officers elected are Rhu C. Cheney, 204 Barnhart-st., president; Paul E. Pierce, 162 Homestead, vice president; Kenneth M. Clutter, 1213 E. Church-st., secretary and treasurer.

The board of directors is made up of these three officers and Welcome P. Case, Jr., 454 N. Greenwood-st.; James W. Richards, 125 W. Farmington; J. Wendell Wisner, Harding Highway-East; Clarence E. Boyd, 139 Johnson-st.

"Service" is the keynote of the creed of the organization, the officers state. No officer or any other person connected with the Junior Chamber receives compensation.

Fee Is Fixed
The annual membership has been placed at $5. Although no definite estimate has been placed on the number of members to be enrolled, it was decided to set 100 as the first goal to be reached in building up the membership list. An effort will be made to attain that enrollment on or before the next meeting, set for Thursday, Jan. 5. The organization has designated the first Thursday of each month as the date for regular meetings. Headquarters will be maintained temporarily at the office of C. H. Conley until the organization reaches sufficient proportions to justify establishing a permanent location.

Membership Committee
The committee named to solicit and enroll new members consists of the senior officers and Robert N. Heininger, 131 Spencer-st.; Berkeley M. Smith, 226 N. State-st. and Robert F. Raub, 192 Pearl-st.

As soon as the enrollment has reached 100, arrangements will be made for a meeting and banquet as a formal opening of the new organization's program of activities. A speaker of prominence will be engaged for the event, it was announced.

Organization of the Junior Chamber is the outcome of negotiations which have been under way for several weeks. The idea was first proposed by Kenneth M. Clutter, who was formerly identified with a similar organization in Sarasota, Fla.

Mr. Conley became interested in the project and assisted Clutter and his associates in perfecting plans for the project. The new organization has the full support and approval of officers of the Marion Chamber of Commerce and preliminary arrangements have already been made for having the two chambers work in close co-operation, it was stated today.

NO BOOZE, NO JOY
Man Commits Suicide After Exhausting Home's Liquor Supply

New York, Dec. 9.—Placing a finger in a slash across his throat made with a penknife, Henry Carducci, 42, ripped the flesh apart and bled to death today on his third attempt to commit suicide because there was "no more liquor in the house."

His wife had stopped him from indulging in a glass and was awaiting an ambulance after he had cut his throat, when he finished the job by tearing the wound wider. "He was melancholy because he drank all his liquor," Mrs. Carducci said.

SAYS WIFE HYPNOTIZED HIM TO MURDER HER
Eureka, Kan., Dec. 9.—Dominated by a woman who feared motherhood to such a degree she hypnotized him to murder her will be the plea of Ivan M. Hart, 32, former bank teller, his attorneys indicated here today.

TOO COLD FOR 'EM

Blizzard Sends Chicago Holdup Men Scouring, Police Report

CHICAGO, Dec. 9—Here is one result of the record cold wave which is not distressing.

The police report from 6 p. m. yesterday until 6 a. m. today, which usually carries from 15 to 20 reports of holdups, was a perfect blank.

"Must have been too cold for the stickup men," commented Chief of Detectives William E. O'Connor.

LAST WITNESS IS CALLED FOR GEORGE REMUS

Taft To Present Rebuttal Testimony Next; Deliberation 10 Days Off

Courthouse, Cincinnati, Dec. 9.—The last witness for the defense at the trial of George Remus for the murder of his wife, Imogene, was called to the stand today. He was Clarence Hoover, professional photographer, who testified he had taken 48 photographs of the Remus "dream mansion," in Cincinnati before it was mysteriously stripped of its furnishings.

"I will introduce a deposition or two after Hoover finishes his testimony," Remus announced, "and then rest my case."

Two character witnesses for Remus preceded Hoover to the stand. They were Michael Igoo, prominent Chicago attorney and politician, and former Judge Joseph S. Labay, also of Chicago. They both vouched for Remus' reputation for "peace and quiet" in Chicago when the defendant was a practicing lawyer there.

Taft To Launch
Judge Labay related an instance when Remus came to his home after he had been released from Athens Penitentiary and acted in a manner entirely foreign to him. He quoted Remus as saying Mrs. Remus "would have anything to do with me, and she is planning to get my property and have me deported."

Remus, 24-year-old daughter of the defendant, sat in court beside her father again this morning. They claimed peacefully and most of the time Remus held her hand.

Prosecutor Charles P. Taft will immediately launch his final drive to send Remus to the electric chair. He has a dozen or more rebuttal witnesses whose testimony will require fully a week to present.

The jury is not expected to retire for a verdict for at least 10 days.

LEGION TO SPONSOR PROHIBITION POLL

Straw Vote Will Be Taken Among All Posts and Auxiliaries

New York, Dec. 9.—Nation-wide interest had been aroused today by the announcement of Edward E. Spafford, national commander of the American Legion, that a country-wide poll would be taken May 15, 1928, among legion chapters and women's auxiliaries, to sound out sentiment on the prohibition question.

Asserting that there had never been a popular vote by the people of the country of the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, Spafford, in recalling the old cry that "soldiers were not given the chance to vote," declared that the poll would be taken on three questions:

"Shall the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act be approved and continued?"
"Shall the Eighteenth Amendment be continued?"
"Shall the Volstead Act be amended so as to permit the use of light wine and beer with the usual normal percentage of alcohol?"

BELIEVE BEACH WILL ABSOLVE WIDOW IN CASE

Jury Disregards Sobs of Mrs. Lilliendahl and Lover, Convicts Them

MANSLAUGHTER VERDICT
New Trial To Be Asked in Hope Prison Sentence May Be Evaded

Mays Landing, N. J., Dec. 9.—Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, bobbed-haired widow of Dr. William Lilliendahl, for whose murder she was convicted, may escape a prison sentence.

It was learned on good authority today that Willis Beach, the under-sized poultry farmer who was found guilty with her of voluntary manslaughter, may make a chivalrous attempt to absolve the widow of all blame in the crime.

The couple, whose love affair, the jury believed, led to the killing of Dr. Lilliendahl in a patch of woods near Hampton on Sept. 15, were to face Supreme Court Justice Luther A. Campbell for sentence tomorrow. The maximum sentence that can be imposed is 10 years in prison and $1,000 fine. There is no minimum, hence a jail term of one day could be given.

Justice Campbell was prepared to pass sentence late yesterday when the verdict was returned by a jury which deliberated more than 23 hours. Robert H. McCarter, chief of defense counsel, told the court; however, that new evidence warranting a second trial had been unearthed since the jury began its deliberations, and he was given until tomorrow to prepare a brief.

This new evidence is alleged to be based on the assurance that Beach will come to the widow's rescue. He is said to be anxious to obtain a new trial for her.

The verdict of voluntary manslaughter came as a distinct blow to Mrs. Lilliendahl and Beach, both of whom expressed full confidence in an acquittal almost up to the last. They spent a restless night in their cells.

Disregard Sobs
Beach does not know that the jury which convicted him believed he did the actual shooting and that Mrs. Lilliendahl was aware of his plans and was therefore equally guilty.

The five women and seven men said they regarded the widow's frequent outbursts of tears as "theatrical" and totally disregarded the presence of her eight-year-old son, Alfred, in the courtroom.

One juror also said that the manslaughter verdict had been fixed as a compromise because, while the jurors felt almost from the start that Beach and Mrs. Lilliendahl were guilty of killing the doctor, some had believed that there was a doubt as to whether this had been proved legally.

JUROR WOULD STRIKE BACK AT DETECTIVES

Edward J. Kidwell Seeks Permission To Draw Up Affidavit

Washington, Dec. 9.—Edward J. Kidwell, alleged "loose talking" juror in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial, came today to the district attorney's office today and asked for permission to draw up a new affidavit bearing on the surveillance of the jury by Burns agents.

The district attorney's office indicated that Kidwell had related that "through a friend or some member of his family" he had been made "some offer in connection with the case."

At the court hearings yesterday, Frank J. O'Reilly, a Burns agent, submitted a report about "the brother of No. 5, in whom we are interested." Kidwell was known by this number among the Burns agents who shadowed members of the jury.

COOLIDGE ASKS INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET

President Addresses Message to Commercial Air Conference Today

URGES CO-OPERATION
Lindbergh Tells Session Safety and Reliability Prime Essentials

Washington, Dec. 9.—An international civil aviation conference to be held in Washington next December, was suggested by President Coolidge today in a message to the civil aeronautical conference, in session here under auspices of the Department of Commerce.

The president's message to the conference follows:

"Your annual meeting under auspices of the department of commerce to discuss civil aeronautical problems should be most beneficial in promoting the best possible relations with the government and among yourselves. Our people in common with the civilized nations, are greatly interested in the advancement of this newest instrumentality of transportation."

"Next December will witness the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first flight by man in a power-driven heavier-than-air machine. It was made by Mr. Orville Wright, one of our fellow citizens, who is still living and actively interested in the further application to commercial purposes. I have had in mind that this important anniversary might be properly celebrated by holding here in Washington an international civil aviation conference, and exhibition, in conjunction with your annual meeting. Should this be found practicable, its success would be a large measure dependent upon your co-operation, which I am confident can be relied upon."

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh told the conference safety and reliability are the prime essentials of progress in commercial flying, outtracking even speed and carrying capacity.

"The industry can never become truly great until it has the full confidence of the public. In order to gain that confidence we must assure the user of aircraft of both reliable equipment and experienced personnel," he said, urging granting of authority to the Department of Commerce to enforce strictly regulations assuring the public safety in air travel.

POSSE SEARCHING FOR ALLEGED BANDIT

Indianapolis Man Confesses Participation in Holdup; Companion Escapes

BULLETIN
Bryan, Dec. 9.—The second alleged bandit, accused of having participated in a bank robbery at Huntington, Ind., yesterday afternoon, was captured in a barn just across the Michigan State line, and near Milldale, O., at noon today.

Bryan, Dec. 9.—About 50 men, making up a sheriff's posse, were searching the woods near Pioneer today for a man believed to be a bank bandit and a companion of Charles Horvath, 20, of Indianapolis, who was arrested last night.

Horvath has confessed, according to Sheriff Lloyd Rly that he took part in a holdup at Huntington, Ind., when a cashier, Horace Tucker, was wounded. Horvath surrendered, but the other man closely pursued, threw off his overcoat and escaped in the woods.

It was reported that several times during the night the fugitive stopped at farmhouses, explaining his lack of an overcoat by saying that he had used it to cover the frozen radiator of his automobile.

Bloodhounds were used in the chase but they lost their trail when the pursued man crossed a creek. He is said to have about $1,000 in bills and two pistols on his person.

MARION COUNTY DOG WARDEN SAYS $100 MONTHLY SALARY TOO SMALL, WANTS INCREASE

Dale Rhoads Claims He Will Not Accept Reappointment in 1928 Unless Wage Is Boosted; Cites Pay in Other Counties

The county dog warden's job at $100 a month is not an exceptionally attractive proposition from a financial standpoint, Dale Rhoads has discovered after filing his petition approximately four months.

This was disclosed today in information coming from the county commissioners' office, where it was indicated that Rhoads probably will not accept reappointment for next year unless a salary increase is provided for.

It is regarded as altogether likely that the commissioners will authorize an increase although no action has been taken as yet. Investigation has shown that wardens in other counties are below paid considerably more than Rhoads, the average being in the neighborhood of $1,800, it was stated today.

HOOVER WON'T QUIT HIS CABINET POST

Secretary Intends To Continue with Duties, Let Friends Boost Him

Washington, Dec. 9.—Herbert Hoover has no intention of resigning from the cabinet in order to devote his time to the furthering of his presidential candidacy.

That much was made clear today in a most authoritative way. So far as Mr. Hoover is concerned, he is going to continue his career as a member of the cabinet, refrain from discussing politics, at least for publication, and permit his friends to do whatever they like so long as they do not embarrass him.

It is a course to Mr. Hoover's personal liking, and one upon which his friends are agreed is best at this early stage of the game. Three or four months hence when the primary lights get warm it may be a different story, but for the time being there will be no change in the status of the cabinet candidate.

The Hoover backers believe their candidate is "sitting on the world." Inevitably, they say, the country will come to accept the secretary of commerce as the Coolidge candidate, even though the president never utters a word in his behalf. They say the very logic of the situation will force this upon the country.

Mr. Hoover remaining at the Coolidge's side, an intimate and trusted adviser, while all the other front-rank candidates are more or less on the outs with the White House.

COMMISSIONER REXROTH IN CRITICAL CONDITION

TEMPERATURE HERE LOWEST IN OHIO, REPORT

Relief Promised in Official Forecast of Warmer Weather for Saturday

MANY RELIEF CALLS
Charitable Organizations Answer Many Requests for Fuel, Food, Clothing

A break is predicted for tonight in the cold wave which has gripped Marion and other localities in this section of Ohio since Wednesday night, when the season's first blast of near-zero weather was ushered in with a storm of blizzard proportions.

Last night the mercury dropped to four degrees above zero here, six below the record of Wednesday night, and the lowest reported in the state. The wintry atmosphere prevailed throughout all yesterday, the local government thermometer registering 15 degrees above zero at its highest point.

Relief Promised
Promises of relief came today in the official forecast for Ohio, which reads: "Fair and not so cold tonight. Saturday increasing cloudiness; rising temperature followed by snow in northwest portion."

Winter's visit has brought discomfort and suffering among poor families of the community, according to information today from local charity and relief agencies, which report that many calls for help have been received during the last two days.

Most of the appeals came to Charles M. Tobin, city relief officer, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Many Fuel Calls
The calls are for food, coal, bedding and clothing, requests for fuel being especially numerous.

Mrs. Minnie Dougherty, secretary of the Red Cross, and officers of the Salvation Army stated that donations of all kinds, especially bedding and accessible second-hand clothing, are needed and will be gladly received for distribution to those in need.

Supplies of food and fuel are being distributed by the relief agencies, representing the Eagles, John A. Abel, secretary of the league, says that an unusually large number of requests for aid have been received since Saturday morning.

Eight deaths in Chicago and a score more in other sections of the affected area, were caused directly or indirectly by the severe cold. The tragedy was caused more suffering than usual because it caught so many people unprepared and followed quickly on snow.

SNYDER APPEAL TO GOVERNOR DELAYED

Mother of Convicted Slayer Visits New York Executive, Asks Clemency

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 9.—The final appeal to Governor Smith to save Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray from the electric chair will not be made until a few days before Jan. 12, when the pair are scheduled to die.

It had been expected that the governor would hear the appeal for executive clemency the latter part of this month. When Mrs. Josephine Brown, mother of Mrs. Snyder, made a tearful plea late yesterday to the governor for clemency for her daughter, the governor said: "I have a duty to perform for 10,000,000 people but I will give the case careful consideration. After the opening of the legislature I will be able to devote much time to a study of the case."

MERCURY DROPS ALL OVER STATE

Columbus, Dec. 9.—Ohio thermometer dropped to low marks for the season at a number of points over the state last night, according to reports reaching the U. S. Weather Bureau here today.

Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo all reported the coldest temperature of the night so far. An unofficial report from Zanesville stated that zero weather was recorded in that section before daylight this morning. Weatherman Alexander said the report was probably correct. The report was the coldest since the thermometer in the Valley usually has temperatures from five to 10 degrees lower than those recorded here.

Warmer weather tomorrow and snow Saturday night may be expected in the central part of the state, according to the weather bureau.

POLICY RAPPED
Anti-Monopoly Speakers Attack Government's Attitude

Washington, Dec. 9.—The administration's alleged imperialistic policy toward Central America and the Philippines was rapped by several speakers today at a conference called by the Anti-Monopoly League.

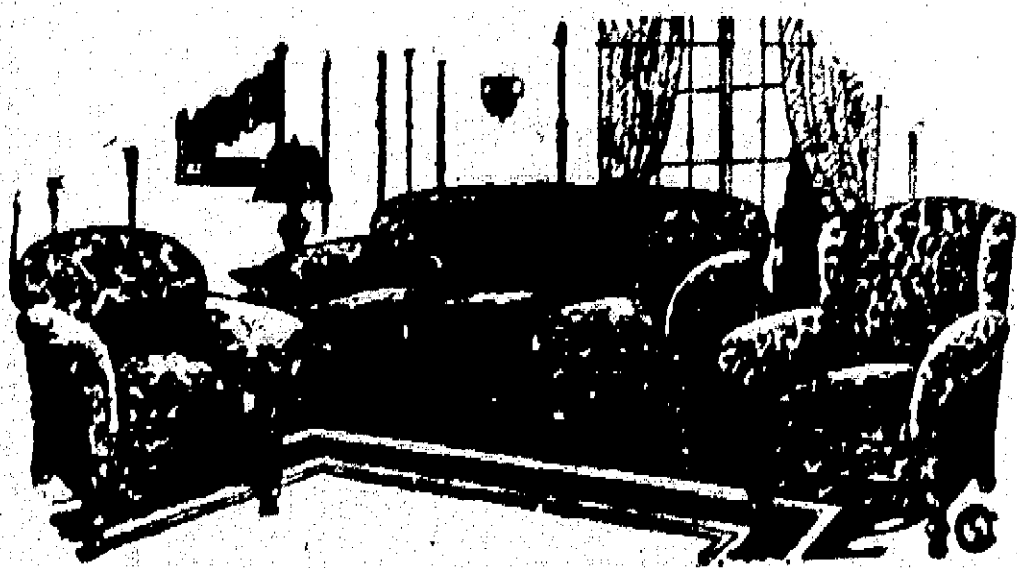

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, announced that he would reintroduce in the Senate his resolution calling for an investigation of America's foreign concessions.

Mr. T. V. Vane, who represents here the liberal forces of Nicaragua, said "American control over Nicaragua is the death warrant of the much-dreamed-of Central American republic, the starting point of the Central American nationalities and their natural fate and rightful ambition."

NAMES PORTSMOUTH JUDGE FOR APPELLATE VACANCY

Columbus, Dec. 9.—Announcement was made today of the appointment by Gov. Vile Donahue of Common Pleas Judge James H. Thomas, Tontomouth, as a judge in the Court of Appeals, Fourth Ohio District, succeeding the late Judge E. D. Barry, Athens.

Founder of Scouting Ties Knot in Silk Rope Owned By Head of Harding Area

A BLUE silk cord with a red tassel—the actual value of which is very little but which is prized very highly by the owner, Walter C. Brown, has just been returned to Brown by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, of London, England.

Brown is scout executive of the Harding Area and has his headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building here. Those who have tied knots in the cord are high officials in scouting and are interested in the scout movement. Sir Robert Baden-Powell is head of the English Boy Scouts and founder of the scout movement. Dan Beard is National Scout Commissioner of the United States and famous outdoor painter. James E. West is chief scout executive of the United States and William Wessell is assistant to the national camping director and was scout master of the world champion troop at the jamboree held in Sweden in 1925.

To Go to Taft
Brown expects to send the cord to Chief Justice William Howard Taft within a short time. Chief Justice Taft was president of the United States when the scout movement was introduced into this country.

In its journey to and from its long trip, the cord had traveled more than 20,000 miles. Brown estimates. It made its first trip three years ago and has been on the road ever since. Brown expects to have one adult and one child to have the cord.

STATE UNIVERSITY MAN SPEAKS HERE

F. S. Myer Defends Co-Operative Marketing Plan in Kwanan Club Address

Does the community in Marion County, but the farmer who sells his produce on a cooperative basis is a more progressive and therefore a better farmer, said F. S. Myer, of Ohio State University, in his address to the co-operative marketing plan, in an address before the members of the Kwanan Club at the weekly luncheon at the Hotel Marion yesterday.

The speaker, who talked in the interest of establishing a farm agent in Marion County, declared that the object of the co-operative marketing plan was to obtain higher prices for the products of the county, but for the purpose of creating higher standards.

Cites Example
The university man pointed to the Wool Growers' Association created several years ago, and which, he said, had been successful in obtaining higher prices for the wool of the county.

Many complaints were made, the speaker said, but the result has been a better grade of wool. The results will follow a general adoption of the co-operative plan, he maintained.

Farm Agent Discussed
The speaker also took up and discussed various other objections to the farm agent which is held by both merchants and farmers as well. In substance, he said:

ANOTHER MARION LADY INDORSING THE NEW KONJOLA

Ends the Dreadful Neuritis
Pains She Was Suffering

Reports are now being received from all parts of Marion, in which men and women are describing the wonderful relief this celebrated Konjola medicine has given them in cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders or

MRS. EMMA McNEAL

Neuritis and neuritis. Just a few days ago, Mrs. Emma McNeal, well known Marion lady, living at 322 Chapter Ave., this city, made the following remarkable statement to the Konjola Man who is at the Stump and Sons Pharmacy, 121 S. Main St., Marion, where he is meeting large numbers in person every day and explaining this surprising new compound. "Konjola has helped me a great deal more than I ever expected of any medicine," said Mrs. McNeal. "It built up my health in general and at the same time it relieved the awful neuritis pains which I had been suffering for years. I was having a terrible time with it, and I couldn't find a medicine to help me. But the worst thing about my case was the dreadful neuritis pains which affected my arms and legs, and I often felt like every nerve in my body was on edge. I couldn't sleep, and I knew I was suffering worse than I could describe in writing. Day and night I was in misery."

"I couldn't find anything that would help me, and I didn't know what to do next. Then I heard of Konjola and what it was doing for other people, so I went to the Stump and Sons Man and I got this medicine. I started taking it right away, and I found a difference almost at once, and I was able to sleep until now I can sleep peacefully without one single pain. I feel good in the mornings, and I have more life and energy than I have had in many months. I can't say enough for me. I can recommend it to anyone."

Konjola Man is at the Stump and Sons Pharmacy, 121 S. Main St., Marion, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. It is now being sold by all of the druggists in every nearby town of Marion, he said, practically all of the people in this section of a market.

He also explained the purpose of the agent and declared that while the state university agent he was not here for the purpose of selling the plan but that the state, under the Smith-Lever act passed by the legislature in 1904 stood ready to furnish $1600 a year toward the maintenance of such an office. Under the Smith-Lever bill the federal government and the state each pay a part of the cost of the county in which the office is established pays the remainder of the cost.

William Unschager, president of the Marion County Farm Bureau, who was also a speaker at the luncheon likewise declared that the objection to the agent was the result of a misunderstanding. Many farmers are opposed to the educational programs carried on by the county agent, and it is a common mistake to think that the agent is a peddler of crops, with correspondingly low prices. This, he declared, was not the case. He also maintained that the agent would profit by the establishing of a farm agent in the county.

Part of Program
The talks given were a part of a program being carried out by Marion County farmers, with the hopes of establishing a county farm agent in the county. At a meeting of farmers and others interested in the movement, together with representatives from the Kwanan Club held at the Hotel Marion last week it was the general opinion that such an office should exist in the county and it was also the consensus of opinion that it should be operated entirely on public funds. The office of the county farm agent which existed here for several years.

Im not dancing.

It is only an unlightened woman who still suffers painful periods. "The old-fashioned girl who must 'keep off her feet' has not learned of Midol. Take a tiny tablet of Midol—and forget the time of month. Midol is not a narcotic. It does not interfere with the normal, necessary process of menstruation. But it stops the pain. It helps you to live in five to seven minutes. And the woman who anticipates her time and takes Midol beforehand will have no pain at all. Midol is the work of specialists. It is effective no matter how hard a time you've always had. Try it! All drug stores, in a slim aluminum case to tuck in purse, for fifty cents.—Adv.

The Story of a Girl
Who Tried To Cheat Love

BY GILBERT ROGERS

CHAPTER XIII
Sally settled down in the boat.

Behind her the pennant flashed and fluttered in the fresh breeze. Tubby Wells' power yacht was just ahead of her, and she was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind
it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind
it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was

it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind
it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was

it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind
it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind
it. She was just behind it.

She was just behind it. She was just behind it. She was just behind
it. She was just behind it.

She hated so—it was being kissed like that! And as he stood there, watching her, a little too fat, almost funny-looking, she read in his face an impulse that was not funny but that was insane and dangerous.

"You're—you're acting like a villain in a melodrama!" she was able to say, trying hard to be cool, to be scornful.
"Am I?" But he spoke as if he hadn't heard. He took a slow step towards her, then another as she moved back, bracing herself with her hands against the rail. It was the slowness of him, the hardness of his eyes that did it. She was smiling contemptuously, but her heart was thumping, and she was praying not to go into a panic.
Too silly—too impossible—to be afraid! But she was afraid—afraid of a short, plump man with a red face and greedy eyes who had so much money he could buy his way out of nearly anything.

It happened so swiftly that she did not remember thinking, or planning.
Only there was the long, low swell, and the shining sand of the beach in the distance. With scarcely a sound, she had thrown the bathrobe from her shoulders, leaped upon the rail, turned and taken a long dive.

Down into the green depths, then up, up to the surface, and as she struck out with an overhead, Sally saw Tubby Wells staring at her from the yacht with open mouth and dumfounded eyes. He shouted something, but she did not hear, did not try to hear. Only he had not expected this, not expected any girl to be as reckless as to take that dive, not so swiftly upon impulse.

She felt so angry and humiliated she wanted to cry, only you couldn't cry well, and swimming! Yet her breath came like little sobs as she pushed her way toward the beach.

Strange how far away it looked from the water's surface. On the deck of the yacht it had seemed so near. Well, she could swim that distance—it wouldn't be hard—just a little extra exertion—though of course it was a long swim.

She was half way between the yacht and the shore when she admitted the truth: she could not reach the shore!
Her desperation she turned her head.
Tubby Wells' yacht was under way now, and standing out to sea. It was plainly leaving its anchorage, growing smaller. And before her half a mile, perhaps three quarters of a mile to the nearest sand spit. Three quarters of a mile and she felt she could scarcely do three strokes!

For a moment to Sally's frightened brain came one incredible idea: Tubby Wells had out of sheer vindictiveness talking away, leaving her to die. But no, that couldn't be. He had left in defeat believing that any girl rash enough to jump into the sea must be pretty confident of her swimming ability and perfectly able to reach the shore.

Sally's breath was coming in short jerky gasps. She tried to float for a moment. Well, this was the end of it, this was the tragic end of the whole escape. Down in those green depths, in the sea, there with the tide like seaweed itself.

"I mustn't give up. Oh I mustn't give up!" she said in a kind of fierce desperation. At least, she could make a try, go so far as she could, gain inches shoreward. It would be better to give up still trying than to give up without trying at all.

The public left her now. Only a kind of desperate coolness moved in her, and spending every ounce of energy as carefully as she could, she swam on.
Her breath was labored, and there was a hideous ringing in her ears. After all, it would be so easy to stop—she was too tired to go on—it was pain to move an arm with each gasp. Yet she went on, on through an eternity until she saw nothing except a dancing green, the floor of the sea, and the blue sky rocking and reeling above her.

She had died, she was dead and floating among the sea-weed. Only her will lived, driving her on, ignoring her suffering, acting of itself with a kind of blind and terrible force. Hours seemed to spin past in a confusion of color and to the bubbling sounds of water. Then she yielded and even her will gave way. Her weary muscles relaxed, relaxed. Then all at once her feet touched, and a shock as of electricity ran through her. The tide was running out. She had reached the flat.
She stumbled and swayed forward, thrashing the water with her hands. It grew less. The shore line that blurred before her straightened out. She staggered toward it, gained the sand, slipped down there, and did not move.

Then some little time later she opened her eyes. The sky was above her, but something dark intervened. She made out a man's head bending down, a man's eyes staring, burning into hers.
His arm supported her neck. She tried to smile. For a miracle had happened.
It was Jerry Evesham!

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON
New Complications

LILLIAN'S reply to my query concerning little Mrs. Townsend's odd bit of news so startled me that I was guilty of a momentary silence. I groped for coherent talk.

"You wish my father and Allen Drake were here?" I stammered the exclamation but, feeling expressing my wonder at her statement. I knew that except in the most important problems involving questions of international importance did Lillian ever trouble my father and Allen Drake, both high in the ranks of the secret diplomatic service of the government.

She glanced at my widened eyes and gave a mischievous little laugh.
"Exactly that," she said. "This thing was amusing before, with only a vague idea of its importance, it is now a thing to give a flip to its proximity to it.
But now—"

Her voice trailed away, and as I saw her bend over, her elbows resting on her knees, her chin cupped in her palms, her eyes looking out toward the distant ocean, I knew that she was pondering something concerning which I had no knowledge, but which gave me a sinister sense of hidden romance.

Knowing her irritation at any distraction when some serious problem was engaging her attention, I did not venture even to turn the pages of a magazine, but silently shared her vigil. But I knew that while my eyes were revealing in the beauty of the meadow, farmsteads and woodland stretched out before me, her eyes saw nothing of them.

At last she stirred and lifted her arms high above her head, a familiar signal to me of her relaxation at the end of what she calls "a rodeo of her reasoning powers."

"Let me give you the low down about this as far as I can figure it out," she said, and I looked at her with some interest. Not in years had anything outside my own affairs intrigued me as this mystery which she had for its central figure our beautiful young neighbor of The Larches.

"Of course, common sense tells me that little Mrs. Townsend must be mistaken in her own mind as to the identity of Miss Upson," Lillian began, judicially. "The superficial resemblance of my neighbor to the celebrated young woman of Mrs. Townsend's conjecture is startling, at first sight. I will admit, but you saw, didn't you, how unlike their features really were?"

I nodded an assent both because I agreed with her, and because I saw

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood
Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

Friday, I am always glad when Friday has come and went, and Jubilee would be too if he wasn't a dog. A dog is so busy thinking about his fleas that he doesn't mind anything else so very much. One flea is enough to make a person forget what day of the week it is, so when a dog has got as many fleas as Jubilee has he doesn't know what year it is.

Feeble brag a pillow to school to set on today. When I asked her what she done that for, she said if it had been me that slid down the slide and jumped the railroad track and came down in the ditch on the other side, I would know what she wanted a pillow for, so I didn't say any more. Feeble most of told the teacher about it, because the teacher kind of smiled every time she happened to look at Feeble.
The last Bag of Tripe got an example on the board wrong, and had to keep doing it. He was still working on it when the rest of us went out at recess, but he got it done a light afterwards and came bounding out almost as quick as we did. Then Feeble said she was going in to get her mittens and she went in and came right out.
Then the bell rang we all went crowding up the stairs with our faces red.

When we went to our seats the Last Bag of Tripe was watching Feeble as hard as he could, when she went to her seat and he went to his. The Last Bag of Tripe sat down at the same time Feeble did, and she sat still but he went up in the air like a rubber ball and he went up like a yelp that made the teacher jump up like something had happened to her. She said the Last Bag of Tripe what was the matter, and he reached behind himself and pulled out a piece of cardboard with a pin sticking through it, and said someone had put it in his seat.

Then the teacher hammered on her desk for quiet and sat in a fierce voice who done it. Feeble lifted her hand up and said she did. And then Feeble said she knew the Last Bag of Tripe was up to something when he monkeyed at the board till all of his bad went out, so when he came out she ran back up and found the pin sticking through the under side of her pillow. She had took it out of the pillow and put it in his seat and went out to play again. The teacher said
"Don't you know you should have told me?" Feeble said, "I am telling you." Then the teacher told her to sit down, and began looking at the Last Bag of Tripe, and finally she told him when he had all swung up, "You may remain in at recess all of next week." And that was that.

PHYSICAL TESTS OF PLAYERS NEAR END

County Health Commissioner Examining Boys and Girls on Cage Teams

The schedule of physical examinations of members of all boys' and girls' basketball teams representing Marion County schools, started several weeks ago by Dr. N. Siffritt, county health commissioner, is nearing completion, it was announced today.

Today examinations were held at the LaRue district school and the players representing the Kirkpatrick district school will be examined probably Monday. This will complete the work, which is being conducted by Dr. Siffritt with the assistance of Mrs. Edna Travis, county health nurse.

Practically all members of the teams, representing 11 district schools, passed the tests satisfactorily, the health commissioner states. The examinations are conducted annually for the purpose of guarding against any students taking part in the game who are not physically qualified.

W. SEMLER FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Says Confectionery Store Was Closed Day Intoxicants
Were Purchased

Alleging that his store had not been open all day of Nov. 14 the day state prohibition men said they visited his place and that he spent the day in bed, did not save J. William Semler, proprietor of a confectionery store at W. Center-st. from receiving a fine of $200 and costs in municipal court.

Lesson No. 13

Question: Why is emulsified cod-liver oil, in the form of Scott's Emulsion, so generally used?

Answer: Because it is palatable and pleasant to take. Children and grown people soon acquire a liking for it. By all means take yesterday afternoon when he was found guilty by Judge William R. Martin of a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. The payment of the fine was suspended on motion of Attorney Fred Warner who represented the defendant, pending the filing of a motion to carry the case to the common pleas court on error.

A charge of illegal possession was filed against Semler yesterday afternoon following the finding of two one gallon jugs containing whisky in a shed near the Semler store. He pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned before Municipal Judge W. R. Martin and was released under $200 bond. The date of his hearing has not been set.

Semler, who was one of the seven arrested by state men several weeks ago and who pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Municipal Judge W. R. Martin, told the court at his hearing yesterday afternoon, that he had left the city early on the morning of Nov. 14 and had spent the day in England, returning at 6:30 o'clock at night.

V. G. Ward, and his brother, V. F. Ward, testified however, that they were in the store at 11:40 o'clock on that morning and had bought two drinks of whisky. One of the brothers drank his liquor while the other held his in his mouth until after leaving the store and then deposited it in a bottle for evidence.

ROY NUSSEY FINED $700 IN CITY COURT

Payment Suspended Pending Motion To Carry Liquor Case
to Higher Court

Failing to prove to the satisfaction of the court, that he had not been guilty of selling whisky to one V. D. Ward, a state prohibition man, Roy Nussey, of Claridon, was fined $700 and costs by Municipal Judge William R. Martin yesterday afternoon. The payment of the fine was suspended on motion of Fred Warner, attorney for Nussey, pending the filing of a motion to carry the case to the common pleas court on error.

It was Nussey's second appearance in court in three years on liquor charges, having received a fine of $400 and costs in Mayor Buckley's court in 1928 on an illegal possession charge. This fine was later reduced by the court of appeals to $100 and costs.

Nussey was one of seven who were gathered in by state prohibition men several weeks ago when they conducted a series of raids in this city and vicinity.

John Keller, a former resident of Caledonia, whose present place of residence is unknown, was the informer. His information, given to state men and Deputies Ireland and Deal of the sheriff's office, resulted in the arrest of Nussey, according to the testimony of V. D. Ward, V. G. Ward, two state men who purchased the liquor from Nussey.

Keller, the state men testified yesterday, had been a steady customer of Nussey's until he decided to reform. He then tipped off the state men of his source of supply. He also accompanied

LAUNCH TAX BILL IN HOUSE TODAY

Measure Faces Long and Stormy Legislative Fight;
Two Plans Up

Washington, Dec. 9.—Facing a long and stormy legislative voyage, the new tax reduction bill was to be formally launched upon its course in the House late today.

Two plans—one cutting the nation's revenues $235,510,000 annually and the other taking approximately $310,000,000 from the taxpayers' burden—will be presented to a Congress eager to use the pruning knife.

Starting as an essentially partisan quarrel, the tax reduction squabble is expected to develop into a free-for-all before the bill crosses the legislative sea and arrives at its destination for approval or veto by President Coolidge.

Spokane, Wash., March 21.—"While working in a stone quarry, I slipped and cut my leg and blood poisoning set in. The doctor stopped this, but my leg refused to heal. It became a running sore and hurt me so I could hardly do my work. I wore bandages constantly for five years, using several remedies without success. One day a friend recommended Resinol Ointment and after I had used ten jars of it my leg was entirely healed. This ointment is worth $100 a jar to me, and I will never be without it in my home again."—(Signed) W. P. Bower, Box 598.

Resinol Ointment should be in every home. It's invaluable for cuts, burns, blisters, chafing, etc., as well as more serious skin disorders. All druggists sell the Resinol products.

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting often fails? Do you know the cause of piles is internal? That there is a stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel? Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Henney & Cooper and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, quick and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—Adv.

WAYSIDE LODGE TO CONDUCT CONTEST

Organization of the lodge into four divisions for a membership drive and a contest will be held during the period ending Dec. 11, was completed at the weekly meeting of Wayside Lodge No. 894, I. O. O. F. last night.

R. G. Williamson was appointed as major to direct the campaign with the four divisions under leadership of the following captains: No. 1, Edward Primmer; No. 2, Lloyd Shiller; No. 3, H. F. Mathias; No. 4, Philip Gorenflo.

Final plans were discussed for a special meeting of the Marion County Odd Fellows' Association to be held here the night of Dec. 11, when officers recently elected for the ensuing year will be installed.

SHIPPING CRIPPLED IN ST. LAWRENCE
Sudden Freeze Up of Navigation Threatens Lake Vessels
Montreal, Que., Dec. 9.—Shipping was crippled today by the 20th gale which struck the St. Lawrence Valley at sundown yesterday, causing a drop in temperature of almost 10 degrees in four hours. Into the teeth of the gale, with a sudden freeze up of navigation as their greatest threat, lake and sea going freighters were rushing through in an effort to make port before winter locks close in its iron jaws.

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

GENERAL ELECTRIC IS THE LAST WORD IN ELECTRICAL REFRIGERATION

INSTALL IT — AND FORGET IT

COMPARISON

A few years ago the kerosene lamp was wonderful because they had nothing to compare it with but the candle, today the electric light bulb has replaced the lamp—The "GE" refrigerator in comparison with refrigerators requiring service is like comparing an electric light bulb to a kerosene lamp which required servicing for continued use.

INVESTIGATE

DON'T take the word of someone who has something to sell you which is "just as good." You owe it to your self to investigate personally before you invest.

Electric refrigeration makes a wonderful Christmas for the family. "GE" refrigeration makes it a permanent gift for years to come. An early investigation is advisable to insure Christmas delivery.

Because:

- (1) It Is Cleanest
- (2) It Is Simplified
- (3) It Is Economical
- (4) It Is Quietest
- (5) No Expensive Service

No exposed machinery with its oil, grease, belts and fans to draw dust and dirt into mechanism—the coil around the top of the "GE" automatically carries dust away from the top, the machine is not anchored to the floor by a pipe fitter or plumber and may be moved at house cleaning time or any other time.—It IS cleanest.

The "GE" is the result of 15 years experimental work in the largest research laboratory in the world. It has only 3 moving parts—the specially designed motor, the piston and the oscillating cylinder.—A permanent supply of oil is hermetically sealed in with this simple mechanism.

Uses the smallest motor used in any electric refrigerator—only eight horsepower—the simplified mechanism reduces lost motion and friction, the motor is connected directly to the compressor, no power lost through slipping belts, no work to do except compress the gas which flows by gravity to your freezing chamber and proper insulation makes "GE" the most economical.

The elimination of exposed machinery and the brushless motor make the "GE" the quietest refrigerator made. It does not interfere with Radio.

Servicing has been eliminated. Any mechanical engineer will tell you that where you have pipe joints and stuffing boxes, belts and brush contact motor you are bound to have trouble and require service and inconvenience. "GE" have eliminated all of these.

IT'S GUARANTEED

"GENERAL ELECTRIC CO."

County Commissioners Carry Session Over When Remonstrance Is Filed

Hearing on the proposed Green-Corbin ditch improvement in Pleasant township was continued by the board of county commissioners yesterday afternoon. Remonstrances and claims for damages were filed by land owners. The matter will come up for hearing at 10 o'clock, Dec. 22.

The remonstrance, signed by A. J.

Seiter, Dr. R. C. M. Lewis and W. E. Bricker, asserts that the proposed ditch construction, estimated to cost approximately $5,400, is unnecessary. The ditch is now filled and repair work is the only thing needed, the remonstrators say. The damage claim, amounting to $425, was filed by A. J. Seiter.

Construction of the ditch is asked for in a petition filed by John Gorenflo and other land owners.

Former Metropolitan Opera Dancer to Open Studio Here

Mme. Bianca, for seven years premier dancer at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City, known to her Marion friends as Mrs. E. F. Sharpless, has announced re-opening of her dancing studio at 241 Edgewood-dr., on Jan. 2.

It is only by accident that Marion dance lovers are given this opportunity of studying under one of the foremost exponents of dancing in both this country and Europe.

Mme. Bianca has decided to re-open the studio which she conducted when she first arrived in Marion and again take up of her profession. Mme. Bianca has enlarged her dancing program and plans to teach as well as classical dancing in the Latin technique, dancing for those who wish to become professionals. She will conduct three classes in physical culture, one for women, another for business girls in the evening and one for children after school hours.

Physical Culture

"Physical culture is essential to every one," Mme. Bianca declares. "For the reducing of the too heavy, the up-building of the too slender, and for development of the body. It is a primary requisite in the maintenance of good health."

In the school which she will open in January Mme. Bianca will employ modern methods of teaching gained during her trip to Europe last year, the thirtieth time she has crossed the ocean.

After 12 years of dancing in her active Vienna, Austria, in the "Imperial Opera House," Mme. Bianca came to New York at the age of 15, danced in the Metropolitan Opera House for seven years and in the renowned opera houses of Europe during the change of seasons. She since has been in vaudeville throughout the United States. She offers in addition to professional training, actual stage experience.

Together with her remarkable talent, Mme. Bianca has a most engaging personality. She is very fond of young people and loves, next to her own dancing, the teaching of children. Among her students are Miss Mary Starnes and Miss Eleanor Tonnies, who are now studying under New York masters.

Score Stands 19 to 2 After First Two Periods; Buffalo Lincolns Next

NOW that sports have held up for the winter, so to speak, the thing this town needs more than new streets, is a good game of ball and bang. A real good fight card, topped off with a nice pair of team managers, would sure put spice into these long winter evenings.

Besides nothing would be better diversion from the radio, the hot stove league, and an occasional basketball game, than some decent car romancing. Just why some local sportsman doesn't break out with promoter's rash is hard to tell. With all the big fights going on this winter for one reason or another, there should be plenty of promoter genius in the air.

THE trouble however, may not be due to any lack of games, but it may be that those with "Tex" Richard, who have tried them before and arrived in more or less time, on the short end of the string. That surely, is something to be considered. Even Tex himself would get the gate if he didn't get a gate.

But what ever the trouble is, it seems that any group of human beings congregated within the walls of a city the size of Marion ought to support a good fight show, say once a month during January, February and March.

At present it seems rather doubtful that anything like this is liable to happen.

Schwab, Shea Carry Scoring Honors for Locals; Parker and Stolzenbach Go on Shooting Spree in Last Half and Cut Down Score

BY TOM BUCHANAN
Sports Editor of The Star

THE newly organized Eagles basketball team opened its season here last night by defeating the Lincoln Fords of Columbus, 29 to 20.

The Fords were considered outclassed in the first two periods. At the half the Eagles were out in front of a 19 to 2 lead. Stewart, posted one basket for the Fords' only score in the first two periods. In the third period Parker and Stolzenbach went on a shooting spree and rolled up 11 points for the Eagles while the Fords were held to six points. The Eagles slump continued into the last period when they scored only one basket and two free throws.

Score for Eagles
Schwab, 12 points; Shea, 10 points; Parker, 10 points; Stolzenbach, 9 points; and Shea, 8 points.

The Fords displayed some clever basketball in the last two periods, but were unable to muster a scoring offense that would cut down the lead built up by the Eagles in the first half. With the game on ice in the first few minutes of play the Eagles slackened in their pace after the first half. In the last two periods some of the prettiest passing seen on the Star floor in years was exhibited. Compton and Roll, especially, are past masters of the gentle art of ball tossing. They seem to shoot from any position and in any direction. Parker, of the Fords, can also handle a basketball in great style, especially on dribble in shots under the basket.

The game next week will furnish one of the best attractions in the country. The Buffalo Lincolns will be here. The lineup and summary:

PROSPECT ATHLETE OLYMPIC MATERIAL

Three Others from Marion Vicinity Go Good at Ohio State

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University
Columbus, Dec. 9.—One Marion athlete and three who live in the immediate vicinity, are making brilliant records in their work on the cinder track and the cross-country races at Ohio State University.

Probably the greatest track and field athlete that Marion County has ever turned out, and one of the greatest jumpers ever wearing the colors of Ohio State University, is William "Pete" Anson of Prospect, who is being considered as an Olympic prospect for the 1928 meet.

Great Jumper
Anson, who was ineligible for the Ohio State track team last spring, was the winner of the broad jump and tied in the high jump matches of the Big Ten Conference held in 1926. His record for the broad jump in the 1926 meet was 23 feet, nine inches, and his

LA RUE TEAMS EXPECT SUCCESSFUL SEASON

York Center To Furnish Next Opposition for Marion County School

LaRue, Dec. 9.—LaRue High School boys and girls basketball teams have announced their schedule for the coming season as follows:

Dec. 18, York Center at LaRue; Dec. 23, Richmond at LaRue; Dec. 31, West Mansfield at LaRue; Jan. 6, Prospect at Prospect; Jan. 13, Morral at LaRue; Jan. 20, Green Camp at Green Camp; Jan. 27, Agosta at Agosta; Feb. 3, Prospect at LaRue; Feb. 10, Agosta at LaRue; Feb. 17, Green Camp at LaRue.

Cochran Moore and Spain are predicting successful seasons because of the splendid material available this year.

The girls' team with practically the same lineup that won the Marion County Championship two years ago and was named out by one point last year is showing great early season form.

The boys team looks to be much better than the mediocre teams that have represented LaRue in basketball in the past. Sheridan at center, and Freeman at forward, look exceptionally good while Greenwood is a valuable man at guard. Coach Moore has a squad of 15 men to select from to complete the team.

Dr. Crowley, all-county center, is jumping her last year for LaRue girls and with Shuster and Campbell at forwards should roll up enough points to win any game providing two more guards can be found to assist Metz, all-county guard, in holding down the opponents.

Chester E. Hanover, of Marion, distance and cross country runner; James Dille of Kenton and Edwin Schoenle of Marysville, cross country runners, are other athletes who will be making bids for varsity berths in coming seasons.

Hanover who is a sophomore at the university, in try-outs this fall outran varsity men and several other contestants to win first place and other leading positions in several two and one mile races. The Marion youth won his numerous and sweaters in both cross-country and track meets while a freshman last year. He is enrolled in the College of Commerce and Administration and affiliated with the Theta Chi fraternity.

Dille has won a majority of the freshmen cross country races this fall and in the few he was not acclaimed victor, he placed among the leaders when passing the final wire.

The Kenton youth along with Schoenle are slated for numerous awards for their work on the cross country team this season. Schoenle has been one of the first 10 to cross the wire in nearly every race run by the freshmen team this fall.

Hanover will probably be eligible for the varsity track team next spring, while the two freshmen runners will be candidates for varsity competition next fall.

Safe Relief

You need not guess what Tonsiline contains. We print the ingredients on every bottle. They are known to be reliable for the treatment of inflamed conditions of the throats and mouths of children and adults and have been favorites in the prescriptions of physicians for many years. Over thirty years use proves Tonsiline is the perfect combination of these valuable drugs. Don't accept a substitute. Insist on the bottle with the long necked fellow on it.

TONSILINE The National Sore Throat Remedy

Minor League Officials Register Kick Against Majors, Then Convene

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 9.—Six hundred delegates to the annual minor league convention—all but the eight members of the National board of arbitration—were enroute to their homes today, following the final session of the annual baseball convention, held here yesterday.

The board, headed with representatives of minor leagues, mostly grievances of players, was forced to remain over an extra day to finish up its business. It held a lengthy session last night and was back on the job again this morning.

Register Kick
Perhaps the most important event of the convention was the success of the association in making it known to the world at large and particularly the major leagues that it is opposed to the present manner in which the two big leagues control the national pastime. It was brought out at the closing session in a resolution reprimanding the three double A circuits and the Western and Three Eye leagues for accepting a modified draft.

No effort was made to cancel the agreements these leagues made with the major leagues, but they were emphatically told that in the future they must first submit their propositions to the National Association and get its approval.

It was charged that they violated the minor league agreement of 1921 when they accepted a modified form of draft that did not include some of the objectional features that all of their brother leagues had agreed to. These two circuits declared themselves "non-draft leagues" in 1921.

When they accepted the modified draft they worked a hardship on all of the other minors, according to J. Walter Morris of Dallas, who led the fight for the adoption of the resolution. He pointed out that had they gone in for a universal draft that the majors would not be signing young players in wholesale lots and could not bother with free agents.

Second in matter of importance of business transacted by the convention was the naming of a committee to call upon Commissioner Landis for an interpretation of the major league agreement. There is a misunderstanding as to whether the agreement expires at the expiration of Landis' first seven year term of office or at his death.

If it is up next spring as the minors contend, they will be privileged to make a new agreement and in all possibilities a universal draft will be worked out. The minors also insist that they have a voice in the selection of a successor to Landis on his death or retirement.

The next convention will be held in Toronto, that city winning a two year night and Chattanooga, Richmond, Va., and Terre Haute looking in their efforts to get the 1929 patronage.

No player deals of importance were reported at the last day of the convention, although Secretary J. H. Farrell reported that there was more trading this year than ever before.

"Listerine, madam, - quickly"
Even children know that at the first sign of throat irritation, the use of Listerine as a gargle will often ward off colds—or worse.
Sore throat is a natural warning that should always be heeded. It is Nature's way of telling you that disease germs are fighting for the upper hand, and that prompt measures are necessary.
Listerine, as you know, has been the standard family first aid in these matters for more than a half century.
Being antiseptic, it immediately attacks the countless disease-producing bacteria that lodge in the oral cavity. Time and time again, it has nipped a serious complication in the bud.
Honestly, now, isn't it worth while to take this pleasant morning-and-night precaution every day during the cold weather, when so many people are laid up? Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Major League Officials Next to Meet

Disposal of Cobb, Speaker One of Big Problems To Be Before Session This Year

Stanley Harris May Not Stick to Senators in Their Decline. Is Belief: No Man's Job His Own, Is Situation at Cleveland

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Having done at Dallas, except swallow in public, major leagues must keep themselves out and some vulgar business at their meetings next week, this being based on the understanding that a pair of trousers either before the draw or you can play with the rest of the team. The New York Yankees will play the American League champion, the Pittsburgh Pirates, National League champions, have bettered their hand for going to use for money. Meantime, there are other questions to be answered, including that hardly as to whether the Yankees will trade Babe Ruth to the Chicago White Sox. Another is the future destination of George Sisler, it being the general understanding that George and the Browns have reached an impasse. Will the Pirates sell it a ball club or will they try to get the left hand pitcher or one of the other weaker clubs? That one also will come down to a decision. As will the question of what Joe McCarthy, of the Cubs, intends to do about his infield.

Joseph has been keeping Johnny Butler in the league by refusing to waive on him. Possibly he will be able to do some business with the Dodgers, who, in all truth, should be willing to do anything except claim the pennant. Lafayette Thomson has indicated that he might be dissatisfied with his lot in Philadelphia. Perhaps McCarthy will be able to pursue his way with both pleasure and profit into this phase of the proceedings.

Same Old Story
Then there is that old story, probably long deceased, whereas McGraw was to trade Landstrom and a pitcher to St. Louis for Riem and Bell. The understanding is that he still is interested in them, whose interest in Alexander's deorum seems to have faded Sam Bredon. The latter probably is willing to go in there gambling again, which may be all for the last time. The Cards were fighting second last year but the outfit gave indications of becoming worse.

The Reds are understood to be ready for anything, including the passing of George Kelly and the Pirates are said to contemplate with great interest the possible departure of Earl Smith. And, somehow, nobody expects Stanley Harris to take the collapse of the Senators sitting down.

Of course, the new managers, Shotton and Slettery, will be expected to make haste slowly, yet the word from Cleveland is that no man's job on the ball club is exactly his own at this moment. The Browns are supposed to feel the same way about the matter.

All of this being the case, something should be done about it, and no doubt something will.

MAY CRAMP STYLE
Changes at Yankee Stadium May Cut Home Run Records

New York, Dec. 9.—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the home run kings of baseball, may not clout so many homers next season at Yankee Stadium. Owing to changes being made in the construction of the stands, the left field foul line will be lengthened 20 feet. Although the Babe and the Buster concentrate on hitting the ball to other fields, they occasionally pole one to left.

DE HART HUBBARD CLEARS ASSOCIATION

Withdraws Charge of "Raw Deal" in Connection with Record Broad Jump

New York, Dec. 9.—In a letter made public today by the A. A. U., De Hart Hubbard, famous negro athlete from Michigan, clears the association completely of the charge of giving him a "raw deal" in refusing to grant application for his world's record broad jump of 26 feet 2 1/2 inches. Hubbard says in part:

"I want to also state the A. A. U. of any such charges. I have stated that the referee on the spot made a signed statement on my application that in his estimation the sand was an inch or so too low."

"I must say that that is drawing it pretty fine without an actual survey, but I realize that no record could be accepted if the trace of such a statement by the referee. In my opinion the pit was absolutely O. K., but the referee's word is final."

"But you may tell the wide, wide world that there will be another 26 foot jump next year and it will be more than 26 feet 2 1/2 inches, too."

PLAN TWIN TEAMS

Sale Reported To Be Considering Yale's Twin Team Plan

New Haven, Conn. Dec. 9.—Michigan's twin-team football innovation, under which one eleven will play at home next fall while the other uses opponents on foreign grounds, is being considered unofficially at Yale. Ad vocates of the plan point out that a reserve team could play other Connecticut teams and teams in nearby states. The plan also would be in accord with Yale's policy of "athletics for all students," it is argued.

BEARCATS ELECT SCHOTT CAPTAIN

Former Harding Grid Man Will Lead Cincinnati U. Eleven Next Season

John W. "Bus" Schott, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schott, 207 Olney st. and right end on last season's University of Cincinnati football eleven, was elected captain of next year's team at the annual football banquet in Cincinnati Wednesday night.

Schott, who is spending the month with his parents here, returned home this morning after attending the banquet in Cincinnati. He is a junior in the engineering college of the university and next year will be his last on the football squad. He is also a triathlete. The football men were presented sweaters and letters for the year's service at the annual meeting.

Schott graduated in 1924 from Harding High School, where he served three years on the school football team.

MARRIAGES ARE FOR ADULTS, RABBI SAYS

Head of Philosophy Department at State University Gives Views

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University
Columbus, Dec. 9.—That marriage is for adults and not for adolescents, is the comment offered by Rabbi Lee J. Levinger of the department of philosophy at Ohio State University in regard to the widely discussed subject of "Companionate Marriage."

"There are three arguments why marriageable persons should not follow the plan of marriage taken recently by the Kaunas couple," declares Dr. Levinger. "They are: first, the need of children in the home; preparation needed before each marriage and the necessity for love in the union."

"Marriage must be real and permanent. Love is no more free than anything else. When I say marriage is truly for adults and not for adolescents, I do not mean a maturity of years. Adults in this case includes persons who can love and persons who have a knowledge of the benefits and obligations of married life."

Marriage without children, the Ohio State professor believes is nothing but a secondary one. He maintains that most of divorce cases originate in childless home.

"Most persons are interested in marriage as a game, but it is far from being anything like a game. It is the one genuine and permanent contribution to the race."

THREE DELINQUENT TAX SUITS ARE HEARD

Plaintiff Wins in Two Cases; Defendant Victorious in Third Action

Three suits for collection of delinquent personal taxes brought in the court of common pleas by C. R. Randles, Columbus man, employed as special tax collector here last summer, came up for hearing before Judge Seefield, yesterday, resulting in judgments for the plaintiff in two cases and for the defendant in the third.

Although the suits were brought in the name of James E. Messenger as county treasurer, Randles is actually the plaintiff, the law requiring use of the treasurer's name.

Defendant Wins
Judge Seefield returned a finding for the defendant in the suit brought against George Orians for failure to pay taxes amounting to $36.37 assessed against the Martel Equity Exchange Co., a concern for which Orians acted as receiver.

The taxes were assessed for the year 1925 on the company's chattel property. Orians testified that he had called at the county treasurer's office and paid the full bill presented to him as receiver after asking for a statement of all taxes then due. Half of the 1925 taxes were overlooked in the transaction.

In deciding in favor of Orians the court assessed costs of the proceeding against the plaintiff.

Judgment by Default Judgment by default was awarded the plaintiff in two other tax suits, both defendants failing to appear at the time set for hearing. These judgments were $70.88 against W. T. Sherman for taxes assessed in 1921 and 1922 and $311.06 against Rupert M. Koch, for taxes assessed in 1924.

Randles was represented by J. H. Eymon as attorney in all three cases and H. Alfred Douthett appeared for Orians at the hearing of his suit.

These cases were the only ones brought in the court of common pleas as the result of Randles' collection campaign here. He indicated that no further action will be taken in the Orians suit but that executions would probably be levied in the two other cases unless payment is made voluntarily.

Randles, who was here for yesterday's court session, has a number of suits still pending in Municipal Court where the major portion of his collection proceedings were brought. He expects to wind up all of his court sessions here within a few weeks.

CITY FINISHES WORK
OF REPAIRING TRACKSCost Will Be Assessed Against C. M. & B. Under Order of Council

With the lapse of the three days of grace given the officials of the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway Co. by city council to repair the street along their tracks on N. Main-st., the city service department under the direction of Service Director Benedict, early this week started the work of repairing the streets and yesterday the work was completed. It now rests with the city to collect costs of the work.

The holes were filled with stone and then rolled down with the city roller, making a repair that is believed by Director O. A. Benedict will last at least until spring when, unless the company takes steps to repair the street, the holes will be filled with a more permanent filling. Because of the cold weather it was impossible to use this kind of a filling in making the repairs this week.

No comment on the action taken by the city was made today by George Whysall, president and general manager of the company.

The cost of the work will be placed on the tax duplicate of the company and will be collected as taxes. Service

REACH SETTLEMENT
IN $10,000 ACTIONWilliam Sansotta Receives $450 in Suit Against William Laughman and Others

As the result of a settlement effected prior to the time set for trial, a verdict for $450 was returned in favor of the plaintiff in the court of common pleas brought by William Sansotta against William M. Laughman and Cora E. Laughman.

Although the terms of settlement were agreed upon out of court, formality of a jury verdict was required because of the plaintiff being a minor, six years of age, making it impossible for him to sign a legal release of his claims against the defendants.

The verdict was returned on instructions from Judge Schofield after testimony was introduced to establish the plaintiff's claim and to make the terms of settlement.

Follows Accident
The suit, brought by Joseph Sansotta, designated as the father and next friend of William Sansotta, was the outcome of an automobile accident which occurred on N. Greenwood-st. on May 16. The boy was injured, it was alleged, when struck by an automobile owned by William Laughman and driven by his wife, Cora Laughman.

The petition asked for damages amounting to $10,000 and $50 for medical expenses resulting from the boy's injuries. The plaintiff was represented by Carhart & Warner and the defendants by Gathers, Strelitz & Gathers.

Following disposition of this case, the petit jury which served during the fall term of court was dismissed for the remainder of the term by Judge Schofield. Jury trials will not be resumed until Jan. 16, when the petit jury drawn for the January term will report for duty.

Sale of 11 lots owned by David A. West in the city of Marion is asked in a suit started in the court of common pleas yesterday by the Advantage Loan & Discount Co. which sets up claims on two promissory notes, one for $370.74 and the other for $374.50, secured by a mortgage on the real estate.

The court is asked to order foreclosure and to designate the plaintiff's claim as first lien. The McDaniel Motor Co., American Building & Loan Co., People's Building & Loan Co. and Myer H. Friendly are named as parties defendant with the request that they be required to list any claims they may have against West's property.

The suit is filed through the law firm of Mouser, Young & Mouser.

In the same action the McDaniel Motor Co. filed an answer and cross petition through its attorney, B. T. Wiant, setting up a claim on a judgment for $109.00 obtained against West.

The American Building & Loan Co. in its answer and cross petition says that it holds first mortgage on two of West's lots and asks for a foreclosure and sale. This mortgage claim is for $814.70. The company is represented by Mouser, Young & Mouser.

Sale Confirmed
Sale of property has been confirmed and proceeds ordered distributed in the foreclosure suit of the American Building & Loan Co. against John R. Smith and others. A similar order of confirmation has been issued in the foreclosure suit of W. W. Willard against Homer C. Britton.

WELL DRESSED ON $200 PER YEARThat's All Modern Girl Needs To Spend on Her Wardrobe, Columbia
Professor Claims

AMERICAN girls can look nifty and dainty every day of the year for the modest expenditure of $200 per annum.

At least, that's the way Lillian H. Locke, professor of household arts at the Teachers' College of Columbia University, sizes up the situation.

Miss Locke provides facts and figures to back up her assertion, and furthermore asserts that the apparel chosen was from an exhibit sent by a department store to a recent conference of the Association for the Proper Housing of Girls in New York City.

Costs Are Cheap
The budget, culled from the style department of the store in question, includes a fur-trimmed winter coat at $40.74; a tweed spring coat at $22.74. There are two hats—one to match each coat or suit, priced at $3.96 each.

There are three dresses—two for office work and one for afternoons or evenings. Their prices range from $13.94 to $17.74.

In the list are three pairs of shoes: Radicans at $9.94; black low-heeled at $7.94, and black high-heeled at $8.94.

Lots of Undies
The underthings are bunched together under a sum total of $23.49, and includes a corset, brassiere, bathrobe, garter set, three rayon bloomers, a cotton kimono, and three rayon vests.

There are also six pairs of silk stockings at $1.19 a pair; one pair of arctics; one pair of rubbers and an umbrella.

Here is Professor Locke's interesting estimate:

Two dresses	$22.48
Two hats at $3.96	7.92

New York, Dec. 9.—Strong resistance to bearish selling pressure was in evidence in the stock market today, and after an early decline to the lowest point of the week, the bulk of the industrial leaders were ready for moderate rallies.

The bearish professionals, who expected comparatively easy sailing, with speculative borrowings increased $2,000,000, and the effects of the gold export plateau showing in the reserve bank reports, found it much easier to depress prices on the tape than to cover stocks at the low prices thus established. In fact, the opening prices of a number of the speculative favorites, showing losses of one to three points from Thursday's close, proved to be the lowest prices of the day for General Motors, U. S. Steel and a score or more of well-known stocks.

Bankers who have given special study to the gold export situation declared that there is no reason for uneasiness in the current outward movement of the metal. The same was true of the brokers' loan expansion, which added about $2,000,000 to the aggregate loans on stock exchange collateral from members of the Federal Reserve system. Not until money rates tighten up considerably above the present level will there be any suggestion of dangerous over-expansion of speculative borrowing.

BRITISHER WORKED SAME PLACE FOR 82 YEARS

West Bromwich, Eng. Dec. 9.—Devised to have been Britain's oldest worker, John Hughes, works manager at Messrs. George Salter and Sons factory here, has just died at the age of 81.

As an errand boy Hughes went to Salter at the age of nine, and was in continuous employment there for 82 years until September last. He went through every department in the works, and patented several inventions available to the Salter business.

Hughes had one simple remedy for long life, a contented mind, steady habits, regular hours and interest in one's tasks.

Considering his unchristian to accept $2,000 a year to be his father, Miss Muriel Lester, a London social worker, called a meeting of women resident in one of the tenement districts of the metropolis and left it to them to decide how best to spend the money for the benefit of the people in the neighborhood.

MARION BOY VICTIM OF "DOPE," BELIEF

Youth Giving John Johnson as Name Found in Courthouse
at Bucyrus

A young man giving his name as John Johnson and his place of residence as Marion was taken in charge by authorities at Bucyrus, yesterday, after he was found prostrated and lying in pain in the public room of the Crawford County courthouse, according to a report received from there today. Bucyrus authorities said that the youth, apparently about 21 years of age, appeared to be a victim of "dope." He was poorly dressed, a part of his attire consisting of a pair of old overalls and a tattered brown overcoat. He was being held under observation at the Bucyrus city jail yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Tilden, an Englishwoman now in her 105th year, can repeat from memory the whole of the poison.
